

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Cemetery

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Cemetery is located at the intersection of Ellery's Sideroad and Highway 93, just outside the village of Wyebridge where the former St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church still stands, though the building is now purposed as a local cafe.

The first Presbyterian service was held in Wyebridge on July 13, 1832 when Rev. James Carruthers arrived in the village. The Church did not always have its own pastor; at these times services were performed by pastors from the Penetanguishene and Hillsdale parishes.

In 1861, Mr. Adam Smith deeded the cemetery lot, thus establishing St. Andrew's Presbyterian Cemetery. In 1870, a log church was completed on the lot, which has since been torn down. In 1889, the Ladies Aid Society raised funds to construct the current brick Church building at the South end of the town on a lot donated by Mr. and Mrs. Nelson McRae. The McRae's are buried in a small lot at the side of the Church in memoriam of their donation.

Below are those at rest in this cemetery.
