

Wyebridge Anglican Church of the Good Shepherd Cemetery

The Wyebridge Anglican Church of the Good Shepherd Cemetery is located in the affiliated churchyard at 8166 Highway 93, Tiny ON.

The church and cemetery were established in 1866 after 1.25 acres of land were donated by Angus and Catherine Grant. At the time, the village of Wyebridge consisted of about 80 residents, Church services were held in homes and families had their own cemeteries.

From the tombstones, the first recorded burials were those of Harriet and Elizabeth Lummis, 6-month old twins who died on October 16 and 17, 1867. On the same stone a death predates this for John Albert Lummis, a child who died in 1860. His name was most likely added in memoriam.

Below are those at rest in this cemetery.
